FARMHAND GETS $51 A DAY

Receives Dollar From Employer and $50 Royalty for Oil From Land Bought for $10.

Louisville.—James Poteet, of Simpson county, Ky., is a dollar a day farmhand, but his income is $51 a day. He receives the $50 as royalty on oil-bearing land next to the farm on which he works. He is married and has two children, but lives on the $1 a day and saves the $50.

Poteet paid $10 for his 44 acres of land that later proved a rich oil field. Two wells have been put down and a third will follow soon. Poteet's one-eighth royalty from the production of these wells nets him $50 a day.

Service.
"Do you regard public officials as servants of the people?"
"Not exactly," said Miss Carcone. "Good ones are as difficult to secure as servants, but few of them are as indifferent about holding on to their situations."

JAIL LIKE A JUG

But Building Has No Cork and Is Without a Handle.

America's most unique jail has been found at Mansfield, Mo. The village "jug" is really a jug, the most curiously designed structure of modern times.

The little building, which is used sometimes, is constructed of concrete, 16 inches thick. It is the replica of the half of the old-time whiskey bottle, the exterior being rounded, with a tapering of several feet at the entrance.

This "jug" has iron bars. Officers admit, however that without a cork and a handle it is not literally a jug.

Milk Snake Harmless.
The house or milk snake is a handsome and mild-tempered colubroid snake, very abundant in farming districts, where it frequently enters houses, probably in search of mice rather than for the purpose of drinking milk, as is popularly believed.

GIRLS IN LONG WALK

Tramp From Los Angeles, Cal., to Washington to Sketch President.

A 10,000-mile $10 hike to draw a life sketch of President Harding.

Two Los Angeles girls, Misses Mary Milk and Geraldine "Gypsy" Somers, both of 100 South Olive street, started on the long walk to Washington the other day with but $10 between them.

If, when they return one year hence with a likeness of President Harding in their portfolio and can show they have actually walked 10,000 miles, Al Christie, according to his promise, will give them leading roles in motion pictures.

They must not ride public conveyances and they must "zig-zag" north and south to get in the extra mileage, Christie has stipulated.

Miss Milk, who is a professional free hand artist and a hiker of much experience on long-distance trips, says the terms of the bargain are easy.

She will draw pictures of persons along the route of their journey and charge enough for this work to meet board and room bills.

The first lap of the journey will be along the Santa Fe trail as far as Kansas City. Then the "zig-zagging" is to commence. On the return trip they will walk in circles until they have negotiated the required 10,000 miles.

"RATTLESNAKE FEAST"

Was Prepared and Eaten at a Banquet of Students.

A score of students and laboratory instructors at West Virginia university were treated to a rattlesnake feast one day recently at which M. P. Reese, head of the department of zoology, incidentally attempted to prove that a great deal of meat goes to waste every year owing to common scruples.

The rattler from the West Virginia hills was presented to the university several weeks ago. When it declined to eat, Doctor Reese killed it and prepared it much in the same way that other meats are prepared.

Those who partook of the meat said it was not unlike breast of chicken and had the same appearance in color.

DARING HUNTER FILLS MUSEUM

California Man Gathers Thousands of Specimens in Two Years.

CLOSE TO DEATH MANY TIMES

Film Story of Adventure Goes With Donation to Oakland Museum—Wife and Two Children Also Share in Hardships.

Oakland, Cal.—One night about three years ago a boosters' meeting was being held in this city. The project under discussion was a public museum for the education of the local populace and the attraction of tourists. Much oratory had been spilled as to the value of such an institution when up rose H. A. Snow and spoke about as follows:

"By Jingo, I'll fill her up," he said.

Mr. Snow has just returned. Since then Mr. Snow has traveled 80,000 miles—around the world and half again; he has spent $125,000 out of his own pocket; he has grappled with death a hundred times in places where no other white man ever set foot; he has braved every kind of fever and deadly ailment that pesters the globe; he has swum around man-eating sharks; he has lived among cannibals; he has swam on icebergs; he has slain tigers and lions and elephants and giraffes and rhinoceroses and hippopotamuses and buffaloes and ant-eaters and humming birds and butterflies until the photographs of his slaughter are positively appalling.

Mr. Snow is a ranchman, but for thirty years he had made big game hunting and the fauna of the world his hobby. It has been his dream for a long time to have a great museum in Oakland, and because of his interest in the project he has been made honorary curator of the Oakland Public Museum.

Family Always With Him.
He started out from Oakland in December, 1919, taking with him his wife, Mrs. Daily Snow, his daughter, Norma, now nearly seven years old, and his son, Sidney. All of them, even to little Norma went with him through all of his adventures which carried him across the equator half a dozen times, into the South Sea isles and through thousands of miles of African jungles.

Mr. Snow regards his trip as successful from the point of view of "filling" the Oakland Public Museum, and beyond his dreams as an adventurer and hunter.

He has shipped back to Oakland representatives of practically the entire fauna of Africa and a vast number of specimens from other parts of the world. They include 800 specimens of mammals to be set up in the Mammal hall of the museum; 80,000 butterflies, 500 mounted birds, 1,000 skins, 15,000 bugs, beetles and insects, a complete collection of heads of African bucks, sixty-five complete habitat groups of animals and a complete motion picture of the entire journey and work.

Mr. Snow traveled mostly by automobiles, sending supply wagons ahead of him to leave caches of petrol along trails over which a motor vehicle never before had traveled, and over some of which another probably will never go in a hundred years. He carried with him a crew of motion picture men, although, he said, they were in such tight places at times that the professionals took flight and operation of the camera fell to his son, while he operated a high-power rifle to stop charging beasts.

The adventures told by Mr. Snow are innumerable and Mrs. Snow and little Norma not infrequently figure in dangerous situations in many of them.

Once he hauled Mrs. Snow and Norma to the top of a high rock to get them out of the path of a herd of 400 charging wild elephants. Sidney, he said, stood in the path of the herd and ground his camera to the last possible second and got what he thinks is probably the most remarkable elephant picture ever made. The herd was diverted a moment later by the rapid pumping of high-powered rifles into the front ranks.

Through the use of blinds Mr. Snow said he was enabled to obtain a picture of hundreds of buffaloes in a great swamp, conducting themselves in a manner as natural and undisturbed as cattle in a barnyard.

He has photographs, enlarged from motion picture films, of lions and tigers and all manner of wild beasts charging the camera man; of animals dropping from bullets in the midst of enraged efforts to get at members of the party; great shaggy lions hiding in tall grass unaware of the presence of the camera man, and any number of pictures of his gigantic kills.

He and his whole party were laid out once in the swamps of the Tana river, Africa, with fever, which nearly carried him off.

Oysters Trap Fuzzy Mice.

Chesterton, Md.—Thomas H. White, merchant, deals in fresh oysters. He is bothered by mice. On closing his store he leaves newly fished bivalves about. Curious mice peep into the oysters, their shells tickle the mollusks, the shells slam shut and the mice are no more.

Efficiency in the Kitchen.

"This thing of being efficient is all right," observes an expert. "but it can be carried to extremes. I know a young couple who landed in divorce court—all because they were trying to plan an efficiency kitchen and couldn't agree on whether the stove or the sink was the center of activity."—Fred Kelly in the Nation's Business.

Novel Cape Dress

This Robbins garment is of canton crepe with cape lined in white crepe de chine. The cape is cut with an irregular hem line and a loose crush collar which ends in long sashes. The latter can be tied at the front or thrown over either shoulder. The full skirt has two deep tucks just above the hem.

MONTE CARLO OF EAST

Macao, Once Holy City, Now Given Up to Gambling.

First-Class Gambling House and Ruins of Great Cathedral Form Contrast—Once Haven for Traders.

London.—Macao is the Monte Carlo of the Far East, says a writer in the Daily Mail.

Two contrasting pictures of Macao (pronounced McKow), are the ruins of the majestic cathedral dating back more than 300 years and a garish building at the end of a narrow cobbled street with its illuminated sign, "First-class Gambling House."

The contrast sums up the ill-starred history of this pretty but blighted child of old Portugal. Once known as "the Holy City of the Far East," it is now the Monte Carlo.

Three hours from Hongkong, across the estuary of the Pearl River, lies Macao. The pioneer European settlement in China, it came into Portuguese hands in 1557 as a reward to the "long-bearded and large-eyed men" for their assisting the Chinese against river pirates.

It was a far-famed haven for traders, and when, in 1576, Pope Gregory XIII founded the episcopate of Macao, became the beacon-light of Christendom in the Far East.

But no longer in the old, boxlike houses of blue and white and terra cotta do the wealthy colonial merchants of old Portugal give their brilliant dinner parties. No longer do the silvery voices of their women folk fill the tropic night with songs of the homeland. Trade and wealth have gone and the colony lives almost entirely on the revenue from the Chinese "fun tan" gambling dens. Save for, perhaps, the government officials, there are very few true-born Portuguese in the colony, which seems now to be run chiefly for the benefit of the Chinese.

The Macanese, descendants of the early settlers, many of whom married Japanese or Malacca women, are scattered in the treaty ports of China and form the bulk of the clerical class working for foreign firms.

The star of Macao as a trading center set with the marvelous rise of the British crown colony of Hongkong, about the middle of last century. Only 40 miles away, with a magnificent harbor which all ships could enter, Hongkong attracted all the trade. It was evident from the first that Macao was side-tracked.

Pepsin.

Pepsin is the digestive ferment of the gastric juice. Commercial pepsin is a medicinal preparation obtained from the stomachs of various animals, as the pig and the calf, and is frequently used as an aid to digestion. A similar ferment is also extracted from insectivorous plants.

Pine Tree Flag Used in Revolution.
A flag consisting of a white field with a pine tree in the center and the motto, "Appeal to Heaven," was flown by the first war vessels commissioned by General Washington at the beginning of the Revolution. It was called the pine tree flag and originated with the Massachusetts colony.

Melpomene, the Muse of Tragedy.
Melpomene, in classical mythology, was the muse that presided over tragedy. She is generally represented standing, with her left foot raised on a rock, and holding in her right hand a mask, such as was worn by tragedians.

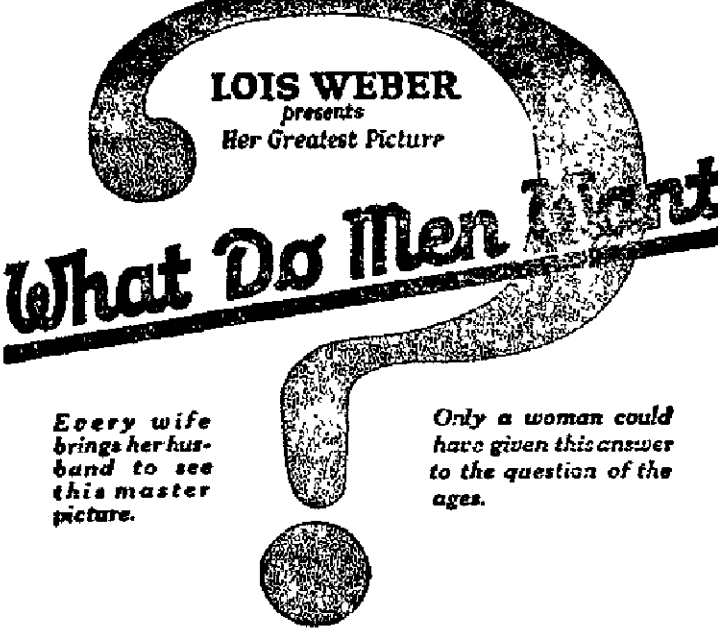

They Liked Leeks.
Owing to the fondness of the Celtic tribes for the leek their descendants, the Welsh, retain it as an emblem of their nationality. The leek or leek was an important vegetable and the Anglo-Saxons called their gardens "leek gardens."

"THE THREE MUSKETEERS"

At Last—A Production Incomparably Greater Than the Announcements About It!

This amazing, de luxe drama of the screen is actually far more impressive than necessarily brief advance announcements can indicate. Here is a picture beyond the power of outworn adjectives to describe!

This is the same Douglas Fairbanks' "The Three Musketeers" which played for nine months at the Lyric Theatre, New York City, at two and one-half dollars admission. And don't lose sight of the fact that this is positively its first showing in Oneonta or vicinity. It will have the same high class presentation at The Strand which characterized the New York City showing.

LOCAL MENTION

—It has been found necessary again to postpone the Oneonta Club dance scheduled for this evening. The dance will be held at a date to be announced later.

—On a recent afternoon by actual count 617 suckers were hooked through the ice at Stillwater near Elmmons by a bunch of active fishermen from this city.

—Dr. George J. Dann is announced to speak before the Junior class of the Presbyterian church at Barnbridge this evening at a dinner of that organization.

—There were 22 members of St. James' guild present at the meeting held yesterday at the rectory. Comfortable weather, refreshments were served and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

—An Oneonta motorist recently returned from a trip to Kingston reports the state highway through from Oneonta to that city to be in good condition for motor cars, though conditions necessitate care incident to winter driving.

—The annual meeting of the Merchants' association of Oneonta will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 9:40 this morning. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance, as officers will be elected and other business transacted.

—The February entering class at the State Normal school numbers 27 students, according to the registration figures given out yesterday. This makes a total of 480 students at the school, 172 of whom are in the class which will graduate in June. The spring term commenced Wednesday.

—Ensign P. Crispell of Albany, who is in charge of the Salvation Army young people's work in this part of the state, will be in Oneonta over the week-end to inspect the young people's work being done here. He will conduct the services at the Army hall on Saturday and Sunday. All are welcome.

—Some of those delicious home-made pastries and other bake goods produced by the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church will be on sale at the store of Arthur H. Butts on Saturday, commencing at 10 o'clock. See to-morrow's Star for further reference to the sale.

—This evening, at Municipal hall will be held the first of the winter series of entertainments arranged by the United Commercial Travelers. It is to be known as ladies' night and a social dance is announced. The Synopses are announced to furnish the music and some old fashioned dances are upon the program. Dancing is announced from 8 until 12 o'clock.

ONE-ACT PLAYS AT NORMAL

Program Recently Given at Woman's Club Here and at Normal School Last Evening for Benefit of Oneonta Normality.

The entertainment of one-act plays given at the Woman's club on January 23 and 24 was repeated in the Normal school auditorium last evening for the benefit of the Oneonta Normality and proved fully as enjoyable as when first presented. An audience that comfortably filled the auditorium, and which netted $75 to the Oneonta treasury, witnessed the plays.

Prior to the first play Miss Josephine Lauren sang most acceptably "The Slave Song," and responded to the generous applause with "The Land of the Sky Blue Water." Between the plays Miss Frances Rowe played a piano solo, Chaminade's "Pierrette," and gave an encore Kevin's "Barchetta," the rendition of both selections being skillfully done and well appreciated by the audience. Miss Deatrice Hendrick, clad in a costume reminiscent of old Madrid, then gave a solo Spanish dance in a manner worthy of the best efforts of a real Castilian senorita.

The plays "The Pot Boiler" and "The Maker of Dreams," were each preceded by a foreword by Mrs. Wilbur Lynch, explaining the nature of the sketches. They were presented by the same casts as at the Woman's club, all but four of whom are Oneonta alumni. The players were skillful in their interpretations of the various parts and developed the situations in the clever plays in a manner which warranted the generous applause they received.

RACE HORSE IN GOOD FORM.

Mabel P. Brooks, Owned by Dan Webb, Expected to Lower Record.
Mabel P. Brooks, the fast pacer owned by Dan Webb, which late in the season last year went lame and gave its owner and admirers some anxiety, has, it is believed, completely recovered from the lameness and is giving promise of making it exceedingly interesting for other horses in racing events in central New York the coming summer and fall. Mabel is being worked out almost daily by Kendall P. Dunn, who has relinquished the motor car wheel, temporarily at least, for the reins over a racer and she is showing all her speed and gait qualities in turns about the city.

Despite her handicap during the latter part of last season Mabel finished first three times, second a like number and once third. She was started four times during the racing season in faster events than her class. The present year she will be eligible in the 2:17 pacing events and the local horsemen are expecting to see her a consistent winner.

Brakes Fail to Hold Heavy Truck.

A gasoline tank truck owned by the Ohio Cities Gas company driven by James Orr nearly came to grief yesterday morning when the brakes failed to hold on the slippery surface of the Prospect street hill and let the heavy truck slip back down the grade and partially over the edge of the bridge crossing Silver creek. The rear of the truck smashed the guard rail on the bridge and one rear wheel slipped over the edge, tipping the truck sideways against the concrete abutment. Orr was not hurt and the truck suffered no appreciable damage. The services of several men were required to pull the truck out of its precarious position.

Deer Sighted on South Side.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffin entertained an unusual guest at their farm on the South Side road yesterday morning. A large buck, with beautiful antlers, was discovered grazing near the house of Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, who watched him for several minutes. Finally, the animal strode down across the flat along the U. S. D. tracks and up into the woods bordering the Charlotte creek.

South Side has had occasional visits from a buck, but it is not known whether it is the same one. He did not put in an appearance during the hunting season, however.

Condition of Accident Victims.

The condition of Allen D. Zandle, who suffered a fractured skull when he fell through a railroad culvert near Richmondville Tuesday, was considered as much improved at the Fox Memorial hospital yesterday.

Linus St. John, seriously injured when he was knocked from the top of a box car at Sidney Tuesday, was in the same condition yesterday as when brought to the hospital. He has a severe dislocation of the hip.

"THIS WAY UP"

Subject of Address by Chancellor Bradford of Oklahoma.
The winter course of lectures and entertainments under the auspices of the schools has included distinguished speakers. Some of those who have appeared in recent years are Cadman, Conwell Folk, H.H.H. Steiner and Wise. The committee now presents Chancellor Bradford, college president, influential preacher and inspirational lecturer. He is one of the most popular and powerful speakers on the platform today. Everyone especially the boys and girls, should hear him.

Reservation of seats for the Chancellor's address at the High school Monday evening, February 6th, may be made by patrons holding concert tickets without additional cost by supplying at Murdoch's store Saturday, after 8 a. m. No sale to the general public until Monday. Advt. 21.

WHISTLER AND HIS ART.

Mrs. Augustus Gives Interesting Address Before Woman's Club.

There were sixty-five members of the Woman's club present at the open house meeting yesterday afternoon, and all of them were greatly pleased with the address given by Mrs. G. W. Augustus. Her theme was "Whistler, Artist and Man" concerning whom there is no one else in the city so well qualified to speak. The address, which was replete with anecdotes of the eccentric American artist, told of his salient personal characteristics, his controversies and disputes, and chiefly of the remarkable quality of his art, which through access to the great Frear collection in Detroit, the speaker had unusual opportunity to study and observe.

The hostesses of the day were Mrs. L. S. Parrish, Mrs. H. D. Weston, Mrs. I. S. DeLonde and Mrs. George J. Dann.

To Drive Essex Coaches.

Clude Carr, Vermer Graves and Ray VanWoert leave this morning for Syracuse and upon their return will drive in two new Essex coaches for the Wilber Motors corporation. The men will be taken to Syracuse in Corland Wilber's sedan. The new cars have already been sold and will be delivered to their owners.

SCARLON SIGNS CONTRACT

Popular Member of Last Year's Baseball Will Sign Contract for 1922 Season—Manager Bridwell Has Several Good Prospects in View.

Contract received and signed for season of 1922. Glad to hear you have a great ball player to lead the club this coming year. Let us hope we will break last year's record and give the fans of Oneonta the best baseball in the history of the best town. My best regards to all the fans. Wishing you the best of luck.
(Signed)
Joe Scanlon, Wakefield, Mass.

Joe Scanlon, popular pitcher on last season's baseball team, has the honor of being the first man to sign an Oneonta contract for the 1922 season. Contracts were sent by President Marx of the Community Athletic association to several prospects recently and the above telegram, received yesterday from Scanlon, is the first notice received that any have been signed.

That Scanlon is to return will be a source of gratification to all who witnessed his stellar work on the diamond last year. With perfect control, dazzling speed, a varied assortment of shots and curves, and a baseball head upon his shoulders, Scanlon proved one of the most dependable pitchers on the team. He twirled 15 games, winning 10 and losing 5, for a percentage of .667, his record being excellent only by that of "Lefty" Davis, who participated in five more games than Scanlon. "Joe" was also a dependable fielder and an exceptional batter for a hurler, his stick-work winning more than one game for Oneonta.

Dr. Marx Hears From Bridwell.

Dr. Marx also received a letter yesterday from Manager Al Bridwell, in which the latter stated that he was in touch with two first class players, a first baseman and a pitcher, both southpaws. "Al" says that the first baseman is a "cocker," and would prove a valuable asset to any ball team and that the pitcher can "knock 'em cold" and has all the earmarks of a big leaguer. It is possible that both men will be signed up in the near future.

Normal Boys Play Schenectady.

The Normal Varsity basketball team makes a trip to Schenectady tonight, where the boys will play the Schenectady High school squad. When these outfits met on the local court several weeks ago, the Normal boys were victorious, 13 to 9, but it took an extra period to decide the game. With their reorganized lineup, the local boys are confident of bringing home the bacon tonight.

LOCAL MENTION

—It has been found necessary again to postpone the Oneonta Club dance scheduled for this evening. The dance will be held at a date to be announced later.

—On a recent afternoon by actual count 617 suckers were hooked through the ice at Stillwater near Em-mons by a bunch of active fishermen from this city.

—Dr. George J. Dann is announced to speak before the Baraca class of the Presbyterian church at Bainbridge this evening at a dinner of that organization.

—There were 22 members of St.

James' guild present at the meeting held yesterday at the rectory. Comfortables were tied, refreshments were served and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all.

—An Oneonta motorist recently returned from a trip to Kingston reports the state highway through from Oneonta to that city to be in good condition for motor cars, though conditions necessitate care incident to winter driving.

—The annual meeting of the Merchants' association of Oneonta will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 9:30 this morning. It is expected that there will be a large attendance. Officers will be elected and other business transacted.

—The February entering class at the State Normal school numbers 37 students, according to the registration figures given out yesterday. This makes a total of 430 students at the school, 272 of whom are in the class which will graduate in June. The spring term commenced Wednesday.

—Ensign P. Crispell of Albany, who is in charge of the Salvation Army young people's work in this part of the state, will be in Oneonta over the week-end to inspect the young people's work being done here. He will conduct the services at the Army hall on Saturday and Sunday. All are welcome.

—Some of these delicious homemade pastries and other bake goods produced by the members of the Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist church will be on sale at the store of Arthur M. Butts on Saturday, announcing at 10 o'clock. See tomorrow's Star for further reference to the sale.

—This evening, at Municipal hall, will be held the first of the winter's series of entertainments arranged by the United Commercial Travelers. It is to be known as "Ladies' Night" and a social dance is announced. The Symphonians are announced to furnish the music and some old fashioned dances are upon the program. Dancing is announced from 8 until 12 o'clock.

ONE-ACT PLAYS AT NORMAL

Program Recently Given at Woman's Club Staged at Normal School

Last Evening for Benefit of Chionian Society.

The entertainment of one-act plays given at the Woman's club on January 23 and 24 was repeated in the Normal School auditorium last evening for the benefit of the Chionian society and proved fully as enjoyable as when first presented. An audience that comfortably filled the auditorium, and which netted $75 to the Chionian treasury, witnessed the plays.

Prior to the first play Miss Josephine Lauren sang most acceptably

"The Slave Song," and responded to the generous applause with "The Land of the Sky Blue Water." Between the plays Miss Frances Rowe played a piano solo, Chaminade's

"Pierrette," and gave an encore

Nevin's "Barchetta," the rendition of both selections being skillfully done and well appreciated by the auditors.

Miss Beatrice Hendrick, clad in a costume reminiscent of old Madrid, then gave a solo Spanish dance in a most worthy of the best efforts of a real Castilian actress.

The plays "The Pot Boiling" and

"The Maker of Dreams" were each preceded by a foreword by Mrs. Wilbur Lynch, explaining the nature of the sketches. They were presented by the same casts as at the Woman's club, all but four of whom are Chionian alumnae. The players were skillful in their interpretations of the various parts and developed the situations in the clever playlets in a manner which warranted the generous applause they received.

Webb. Expected to Lower Record.

Mabel P. Brooks, the fast pacer owned by Dan Webb, which late in the season last year went lame and gave its owner and admirers some anxiety, has, it is believed, completely recovered from the lameness and is giving promise of making it exceedingly interesting for other horses in racing event in central New York in the coming summer and fall. Mabel is being worked out almost daily by Kendall P. Dunn, who has relinquished the motor car wheel, temporarily at least, for the reins over a racer and she is showing all her speed and gamy qualities in turns about the city.

Despite her handicap during the latter part of last season Mabel finished first three times, second a like number and once third. She was started four times during the racing season in racing event than her class. The present year she will be eligible in the 2:17 pacing events and the local horsemen are expecting to see her a consistent winner.

Brakes Fail to Hold Heavy Truck.

A gasoline tank truck owned by the Ohio Cities Gas company driven by James Orr nearly came to grief yesterday morning when the brakes failed to hold on the slippery surface of the Prospect street hill and let the heavy truck slip back down the grade and partially over the edge of the bridge crossing Silver creek. The rear of the truck smashed the guard rail on the bridge and one rear wheel slipped over the edge, tipping the truck sideways against the concrete abutment. Orr was not hurt and the truck suffered no appreciable injury. The services of several men were required to pull the truck out of its precarious position.

ARRESTED IN OWEGO.

Daughter of East Worcester Man Arrested by State Troopers.

Owego, Feb. 1. — Two state troopers arrested a girl who gave her name as Nina Mason and her home in Binghamton. Wednesday morning, and she was committed to jail until her proper age can be learned. The girl's father, who lives at East Worcester, wrote the state police some time ago, asking them to locate his daughter. It is alleged she was found yesterday keeping house for three mid in a house on Prospect street.

She was brought before Police Justice Addison J. Robinson and when questioned stated she was 16 years old and was married, but did not live with her husband, who is in Binghamton. Her father stated in his letter that she is but 14 years old and wants her placed under proper guardianship. District Attorney Nathan Turk has written the Binghamton authorities for her correct age.

WILL PROVIDE HOSPITAL

Announcement of Mammoth Gift of Mrs. Grace Crary Haskins Made at Annual Meeting in Binghamton Yesterday of Wounding Conference Children's Home.

At the annual meeting of the members of the Wounding Conference Children's Home, held yesterday at the Chenango Street Methodist church in Binghamton, announcement was made that Mrs. Grace Crary Haskins had signified her desire to provide for the erection of a hospital to be built at the home and to cost $30,000. Mrs. Haskins has been a leader in the Children's home movement from its inception and has been a liberal contributor to the building fund. Her great interest in the project has practically made possible the building of the home. Mrs. Haskins' munificent gift, which was heartily appreciated, assures that the home will have a most modern hospital, built according to well prepared plans and modernly equipped. That it will prove a most valuable adjunct to the institution cannot be doubted.

It was stated at the meeting that the main building was nearing completion and would probably be ready for occupancy about May 1. All payments for the construction work have been met to date and it is hoped that the hearty support of the home missionary workers and the laymen throughout the conference that it can be dedicated free of debt.

The following officers were chosen, most of whom were re-elected:

President—Mrs. Grace Crary Haskins, Binghamton.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. J. N. Lee, Binghamton; Mrs. E. A. Martin, Binghamton; Mrs. May Emory, Stanton, Mrs. A. E. Finch, Sidney.

Secretary—Mrs. F. J. Scott, Binghamton.

Treasurer—Mrs. A. J. Miles, Binghamton.

Directors for three years—Mrs. Grace C. Haskins, Binghamton; C. Fred Hess, Binghamton; H. W. Lee, Oneonta.

The members in attendance at the annual meeting were entertained at luncheon by the Home Missionary Society of the Chenango Street church.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN TOM AND THE "BLOODY ESPINOZAS"

Back in the sixties in the Colorado gold camps around Pike's Peak the warning "The Bloody Espinozas are coming!" struck more terror to the hearts of the miners than the dread cry of "Indians! Indians!" The Bloody Espinozas were two Mexicans, brothers. The older, Juan Espinoza, believed that he had a special mission to kill all American. He ambushed them in the daytime, and kept upon them at night. His record of murders is said to have totaled 32.

In 1893 he killed two well-known prospectors of California, Guthrie, near Leadville. Their comrades vowed vengeance on the Espinozas, and after a long chase and a hard battle, they killed the youngest brother, Juan. Escaped and the next year he was back in his old haunts in the Sangre de Cristo mountains robbing stage coaches and wagon trains and murdering settlers and miners. He took his nephew with him on these raids, and they grew so bold that a reward of $1,500 was offered for their capture, dead or alive.

At this time there was living at Fort Garland a little Irishman called Rocky Mountain Tom. Tom Tobin was his real name, and he was a close friend of Kit Carson. He was one of the best mountain trappers.

When the report of the Espinozas' latest murder was brought to the fort Tobin immediately volunteered to go after the bandits. Settling out alone, he took their trail and stuck with it, although it led into the wildest parts of the Sangre de Cristo. Late one evening he saw from a distance two men camped under the shelter of a shelving rock above a little stream. Stalking the two bandits as he would wild animals, the scout crept closer and closer. He knew they could not be taken alive, and he dared not take the chance of missing his first shot. The Mexicans were crouched over a tiny flame warming their hands, but in the dim light they offered a poor target even for so good a marksman as Rocky Mountain Tom.

At last Juan Espinoza rose. He stretched both arms wide, forming with his body a perfect cross and presenting a target which loomed up plainly against the background of a sky aglow with the sunset. Tobin fired instantly and the Mexican murderer fell dead across his camp fire. The nephew scrambled to his feet. The scout fired again, and the last of the Espinozas dropped dead.

A few days later Tobin walked into Fort Garland, carrying a sack, and demanded a reward of $1,500. The sack contained the heads of the Bloody Espinozas.

"PRAISES BE" SAYS

MRS. STEVENSON

"I am more grateful to Goldine Alternative than words can express," says Mrs. Robert Stevenson.

"For over six years, my arms and legs were so tied up with rheumatism that I had to sit in a chair, and I never expected to be helped and I had about resigned myself to my fate. I got so I had to have my daughter dress and undress me, and had to be waited on most hand and foot. The pain in my back and my muscles got so terrible that I often wished I was dead. My sister called on me one day and told me about Goldine Alternative. I had been hearing a lot of those down her way, so she got me a bottle at the drugstore. The swelling in my ankles went down a lot after the first bottle, and I began to sleep much better. I got some more right off, and got so I could get up alone and limp around the kitchen. You can see how well I am today. I can walk to the car line and shop down town and come back all alone. I know that it will be just a little while before I will be entirely well again. Praises be to Goldine Alternative. It is a wonderful medicine. Goldine Alternative is sold in—Advertisement."

AMERICANS LOSE LUXURY TAX

Forget Their Receipts, So French Government Does Not Refund Sums.

Paris, France.—Several French newspapers are protesting against what they term "the misplaced generosity" of the government in refunding to Americans, when they return to the United States, the 30 per cent luxury tax they have paid on purchases. The newspapers say the government is giving away hundreds of thousands of francs in this way which rightfully belong to the country.

Americans have read these protests with not a little surprise. Many who have tried to get back the total of their luxury tax have discovered the difficulties are many. The first and most essential demand of the government officials at the port of embarkation is that all receipts of purchases must be presented. Luxury tax concerns women almost entirely, and most of them forget or lose these receipts.

Those who know of this demand are comparatively few, so the luxury tax, so far as most homeward bound Americans are concerned, usually remains in France.

WOMAN IS GOOD FARMER

She Is Successful in Raising Fine Crops and Cattle.

Mrs. Frank E. B. Cable, residing on a farm near Hudson, S. D., since the death of her husband, has made a record for herself as a successful farmer-ette.

Mrs. Cable has a 40-acre field of corn which has averaged 30 bushels per acre. She has been successful financially in feeding cattle and hogs and at present has several carloads of cattle in the feed yards, some of them ready for market.

Mrs. Cable has three sons, all of whom go to school and she is a university student.

Armenia's Heritage of Song. Armenia has a distinctly national collection of songs, some of which have come down from prehistoric times. Through melodies transmitted from parents to children great national events and the heroes and sages of centuries are familiar to each generation, preserving in song a vast amount of historical facts that otherwise would have been lost.

THIS MAN IS REAL GENIUS

Invents Auto Attachment That Will Pluck and Cook Stray Fowl.

Havana, Mo.—A new diver invention was displayed on the street here by a man giving the name of Ole Olson.

The invention is patterned after a street car guard. When the driver runs over a chicken or turkey the fender scoops up the bird, runs it past the engine fan, which is arranged with knife-like blades that dress, clean and cut up the fowl. The victim then lands in a pan attached to the engine, where it is cooked by heat from the exhaust pipe. Water from the radiator slowly drips on the bird so that gravy is made.

Several prospective buyers of stock in the invention made a trip through the country. On their return, when the hood of the engine was raised, more than 30 pounds of dressed, roasted meat was found.

Child Coughs Up Nail.

Two years ago little Milford Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Olson, Spooner township swallowed a shingle nail. The nail could not be located in the air passage, and not causing the child any discomfort, the incident was forgotten until recently, when he was seized with a fit of violent coughing and the nail came hurdling out of his mouth.

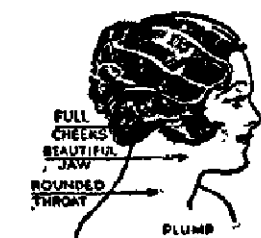

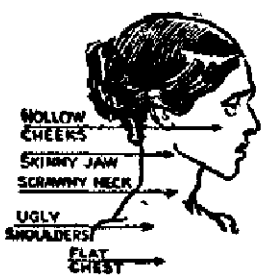

Kills Large Horned Owl.

Burnham, Pa.—Bert Walker the other day shot and killed a great horned owl that measured 42 inches from tip to tip, near Gilmoney Park. He will have it mounted.

Only Families With Children Taken.

Frank H. Kryder of Fort Wayne, Ind., has a house to rent but will not consider a couple without children. "Where would you and I be if our parents had been unable to rent houses because of having children?" asks Mr. Kryder.
